

CENTER FOR HEALTH POLICY RESEARCH AND ETHICS

The Policy Research Mentorship Program (PRMP) Washington Health Policy Institute

August 31, 2009

The Center for Health Policy Research and Ethics is pleased to announce the awarding of two policy research fellowships for the 2009-2010 Policy Research Mentorship Program of the Washington Health Policy Institute. The 2009-2010 PRMP fellows and the working title of their policy research projects are:

Shari Goldberg, MS, RN
Colby-Sawyer College Department of Nursing
Connectivity among Community Health Collaboratives: A Descriptive Study

Becky Horn, MSN, NNP-BC
Saint Elizabeth School of Nursing
The Role of Prenatal Care in Neonatal Outcomes of Substance Abusing Women

The Policy Research Mentorship Program of the Washington Health Policy Institute (WHPI) and the Center for Health Policy Research and Ethics (CHPRE) is designed to develop interest and expertise in health policy analysis among selected WHPI participants. The goals of Policy Research Mentorship Program are to stimulate the conduct and dissemination of research and evaluations that:

- Apply knowledge gained and lessons learned from WHPI;
- Analyze a selected emerging or extant health policy issue of significance to the applicant's profession and academic or service institution, as well as to CHPRE;
- Produce expert policy analyses targeted at public policymakers; and
- Further interest in and participation at future Washington Health Policy Institutes.
